

USPS Fleet Vans

Ontario, New York, USA

Replacing the lot of mail trucks became a crucial point for the United States Postal Service (USPS) when maintenance costs and limited cargo space issues arose. The USPS commissioned fleet vans to replace the older mail trucks currently on the road. With the new fleet of vehicles set to hit the road in 2018,

Fasteners Direct was selected to provide hardware for the large project.

The new fleet vehicles – an estimated 180,000 – will feature more cargo space for mail packages - shelving units will be added to each vehicle. This design will allow for easier mail and package delivery throughout the US.